A. PREFACE

Young people in Isabel Province already bestowed with beautiful, sea resources, fertile land, cultures and customs, less population and other things.

However, all these are declining at alarming rate while the population increase dramatically, which becomes a threat to the future of our young people. Young people encounter new changes and challenges in their transitional period, especially from their childhood to adulthood. These changes come about through increasing access to education, training, migration and western influences pondering our traditional life-style. Young people should now take stock what is happening within our sphere.

In year 2005, the Youth Office established the first draft Youth Policy with its Action Plan, where resourceful personals from different sector involved. The desire to have these two documents finally put in place for action came about during the Isabel Youth Parliament held at the Provincial Capital, Buala 2007.

Now having our own Policy with its Action Plan is another thing, while the implementation of it must be seriously taken on board by all young people. I firmly believe that the Isabel Youth Policy with its Action Plan's aspiration can be achieved through strengthening effective partnership through enhancing better working environment where all stakeholders will come together with the Provincial and the National Government under Youth Department or Youth Division to address Youth issues in much higher degree of benefits to young people.

This Youth Policy with its Action Plan will be the road map for all young people in Isabel Province from 2009 and beyond. It is my sincere hope also that all young people will welcome the production of these two documents as a beginning of another era in the history for Youth development in Isabel Province and Solomon Islands.

Lastly, I would like to wish all young people a very bright and prosperous future.

Honourable Rhoda Sikilabu

Provincial Minister for Community Affairs

Isabel Province

B. INTRODUCTION

1. Background and purpose/rationale

Santa Isabel is one of the nine Provinces in the Solomon Islands. Isabel comprises of the Islands of Isabel, San Jorge, Barora Fa and Barora Ite, with a total population of 20,421, based on the 1999 census, which represents 5% of the country's population. The dependency ratio is 46.4 whilst sex ratio is 104.3 males to 100 females.

The Island is of volcanic origin and consists of steep hills and mountains dissected by several rivers. The Province is vulnerable to coastal flooding and Tropical Cyclone, landslides, river flooding and drought. Most villages are located along the cost. Although the Province has a land area of the 4,156 sq.km, only 2.3% are classified as Agriculture Opportunity Areas.

About 97.8% of the population practiced subsistence agriculture and the main crops grown are taro, potato, yam, pana, betel nut and pineapple. Of the 97.8%, only about 40% have access to market. The working population (14 years and over) totals to 12,381, which represents 61% of the Isabel total population. About 76% of land is customary and 26% is alienated land

2. Definition of Youth

This policy defines youth as young male and female in the 12 - 30 years of age group. The youth definition although defers from that of the National Youth Policy, reflects the unique differences as experience in Isabel Province. For practical purposes, therefore this policy will be flexible to accommodate boys and girls less than 12 years and men and women over 30 years who may go through similar circumstances.

3. Youth Profile

Youth Development in Isabel began around 80's and has been centered round the churches and it was then that the Diocese of Ysabel (DOY) formed the Team Ministry at Tasia. Seeing it is centered round the church, its activities are church oriented. Then the DOY moved further and established Youth Ministry and employed a Youth Coordinator.

In the Provincial level however, Youth related matters, were dealt with on an ad-hoc basis by ad-hoc committees and it was continued to be in that scenario till 2002, where the Province established the Youth and Cultural Affairs Department and employed a full time coordinator.

Provincial Youth Coordinator, although an officer administering the office, it continued to work closely with the Diocesan Youth Coordinator in developing and implementing of the National Youth Policy.

The common issues impinging on the lives of young males and females in Isabel Province include:-

- Substance Abuse
- Teenage Pregnancy
- Single Parent
- Lack of employment opportunity
- Population Growth
- Less recognition from elders and chiefs

- Violation of Basic Human Rights by parents and caregivers
- Lack of understanding of Human Rights by young people
- Sexual Abuse/ child abuse/ incest
- Law and order and security
- Education and Youth training
- Culture and tradition
- Gender
- Environment and Natural resources management

4. Background to the Development of Youth Services in the Province

Traditionally Youth was non-existence in Isabel Province. Young males and females are merged into adult world at an early age through participation. Although Youth Affairs emerged as a national issue in the Government agenda in the mid 70's, it was not until the mid 80's that the Youth Affairs was introduced into the Provincial Government agenda. Prior to the above, Youth Development was more prevalent within the educational institutions run by the Churches. E.g. Scouts, Girl Guides. The Churches, in particular the DOY in recognition of the existence of young males and females formulated church based programs including Sunday School, Bible Studies, critical and functional literacy. The Provincial Government is therefore committed to establish, finance and facilitate the newly established Isabel Youth Council (IYC).
